

Year 11 Careers Newsletter: Friday 14th November 2025

Happy days, Year 11

How has the first week of your mock exams gone? Even before the papers are marked, you will have much to reflect on: Did you use your time effectively? What were the main challenges? Giving careful consideration to your exam experience and acting on it, will undoubtedly prove very useful in the Summer.

The Open event at Herefordshire and Ludlow College on Saturday was very well attended. I do hope that you managed to ask the questions you wanted to and clarified any queries you had. A number of you had attended the Open event at Shrewsbury College and were planning to go along to Hereford, in order to compare the two. I was really pleased to hear this, as it shows a high level of maturity and demonstrates that you are motivated to enrol on the best course to suit you.

I have updated the list of Open events. Only one this week, but the highest number of Ludlow School students I have known, have booked to attend. The September and October events at Hartpury were fully booked. So, if you are thinking of attending, I would contact the college asap.

|                                                                                       |                                                                                                 |                                |                                                  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Hartpury College,Gloucester(Equine, animalwelfare, sport,engineering) | (A-Levels, T-Levels,Diplomas,apprenticeships.)Scholarships are available | 15 th November 2025 | Times will be madeavailable whenbooking. |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|

Last week, I was asked what jobs/careers are most likely to be replaced by AI. So, I thought I would put together a list of the top 'cold' jobs, expected to be affected by AI. Generally speaking, they are the jobs/careers that can be performed more quickly and efficiently by algorithms and machines:

Administrative and Data Processing – Accountants, administration assistants.

Customer Service and Communication – Receptionists, Sales, Travel agents.

Content Creation and Translation – Translators, journalists, writers and authors.

Retail and Food Service – Think self-checkout kiosks in fast-food restaurants and shops.

Transportation and Logistics – Taxi and Delivery drivers will be affected by the changes in the automotive world (electric cars...)

Legal and Financial Support – Solicitors' assistants (Paralegals), Information analysts, as AI can quickly process vast amounts of data and legal documents for review and analysis.

Next week, I will list the top 'hot jobs.' We all need to give careful consideration of how the working world is predicted to change.

Enjoy your weekend.